Dr. M. Sandya Rani Lecturer in History had the distinguished honor of attending the 63rd to 68th Annual Convocations of Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, held on 10 June 2026, in her capacity as a Member of the Executive Council. The Convocation was graced by the Hon'ble Governor, adding immense prestige and significance to this memorable academic occasion. Her participation in this landmark event reflects her commitment to academic excellence and higher education. The Convocation celebrated the remarkable achievements of graduates while reaffirming the University's enduring dedication to excellence in teaching, research, and service.

Dr. J. Rama Devi has successfully published a research paper titled "Women Entrepreneurship in the Digital Economy: A Review of Opportunities and Barriers" in the International Journal of Novel Research and Development (IJNRD), an international peer-reviewed, open-access, and multidisciplinary journal (ISSN: 2456-4184). The paper was published in Volume 11, Issue 6 (June 2026). This publication highlights her scholarly contribution to the field of women entrepreneurship and the digital economy, reflecting her commitment to quality research and academic excellence. The achievement enhances the institution's research profile and encourages a culture of innovation and scientific inquiry.

Dr. P. Sivaraagini successfully published a research paper titled "Long-Term Effects of Bt Cotton (Bollgard I) Monoculture on Soil Physicochemical Properties, Microbial Community Structure, and Nitrogen Cycling in Subtropical Agricultural Soils of Khammam District, Telangana: An Integrated Field and Laboratory Assessment" in the International Journal of Novel Trends and Innovation (IJNTI), Volume 4, Issue 5, May 2026. The publication highlights significant research on the impact of Bt cotton cultivation on soil health and microbial diversity, contributing valuable insights to sustainable agricultural and environmental research.

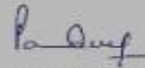

Dr. P. Sivaraagini published a research paper titled "Isolation, Screening, and Molecular Characterization of Nitrifying Bacteria from Bt and Non-Bt Cotton Rhizospheric Soils in Khammam District, Telangana, India" in the International Journal of Creative Research Thoughts (IJCRT), Volume 14, Issue 5, May 2026. The study focuses on the isolation and molecular characterization of beneficial soil microorganisms, emphasizing their role in soil fertility and sustainable agricultural practices. The publication reflects the department's commitment to quality research and scientific advancement.

2. STUDENTS ACHIEVEMENTS(Awards and achievements)

We extend our heartiest congratulations to all the students who have successfully qualified the P.G. SET examination in various subjects. Your dedication, perseverance, and academic excellence have earned you this remarkable achievement. This success reflects your hard work and commitment to higher education and research. We wish you continued success in all your future academic and professional endeavors and are proud of your outstanding accomplishment.
